Kyzen and Head-Tech Engineering Hold Successful Cleaning Seminar in Israel

NASHVILLE — May 2010 — Kyzen, a world leading provider of environmentally responsible precision cleaning products for electronics and high-technology manufacturing operations, announces that it held a successful seminar titled “Advanced Cleaning Materials and Processes” in conjunction with Head-Tech Engineering. The seminar was held on Monday, May 10, 2010 at the Leonardo Plaza Hotel in Tel Aviv, Israel.

The one-day seminar was well attended with 55 attendees, and focused on electronic and micro-electronic cleaning. Participants were given insight to the proper cleaning process design, soil differences, cleaning agent types, matching the cleaning agent to the soil, integrating the chemistry with the cleaning equipment, and validating the process.

The seminar was designed to give participants a better understanding of how cleaning improves product reliability and product assurance. Dr. Mike Bixenman, CTO of Kyzen, and Mr. Fernando Rueda, Manager of Kyzen-Europe, answered some of the most commonly asked cleaning questions.

Mike Bixenman, CTO of Kyzen, presents at a cleaning seminar held in conjunction with Head-Tech Engineering on Monday, May 10, 2010 at the Leonardo Plaza Hotel in Tel Aviv, Israel.
