Harry Yun Joins Optel Software as COO

Shenzhen, China — May 2018 — Optel Software, a global provider of smart software solutions for the electronics assembly industry, today announced the appointment of Harry Yun to Chief Operating Officer (COO). Yun is a highly motivated global business builder with a successful track record in the U.S., Korea, China and Europe.

In a previous role, Yun increased sales from $8M to $25M in three years. Fluent in English and Chinese, Yun's multicultural professional background will be an asset to Optel. Yun commented on his new position at Optel: "I am very excited about joining Optel Software and the opportunity to grow with the team. I am looking forward to helping grow our business, developing smart software solutions and deploying them worldwide."

Yun has been in the industry for more than 22 years at respected companies including Samsung Electronics, Koh Young and Eunil. He has a B.S. in Electronics Engineering from Kon Kuk University, Seoul Korea.

Optel provides smart and mobile software solutions for scheduling, dispatching, tracking, monitoring and controlling electronics assembly on a paperless factory floor. This integrated offering is supported by the company's extensive application experience to help electronics assembly manufacturers achieve their productivity, cost and quality goals.
