FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Thermaltronics to Exhibit with Distributor (Adopt SMT) at SMT/Hybrid/Packaging 2018

NEW YORK — May 2018 — Thermaltronics, a manufacturer of soldering systems incorporating the unique Curie Point technology, have appointed Adopt SMT as the exclusive distributor of the new Thermaltronics Soldering Robot in Germany. They will exhibit the new Thermaltronics robot, TMT-R9800S, in Hall 4A, Booth 458 and 460, at the upcoming SMT/Hybrid/Packaging show scheduled to take place June 5-7, 2018 at the Messe in Nuremberg, Germany.

Additionally, Adopt SMT will have the full range of soldering products on display at their two booths.

The TMT-R9800S incorporates features and benefits not found on other soldering robots, including:

- Six Axis system
- Dual arm capability
- Fiducial marks
- Dynamic laser height control
- Enhanced software
- 360-degree rotation on base plate

Erhard Hofmann, Managing Director of Adopt SMT, said, "Compared to other soldering robots, the TMT-R9800S is more advanced and yet still very well priced against less capable systems."

For more information, stop by one of Adopt SMT's TWO booths at SMT Nuremberg, or visit <http://www.thermaltronics.com> to learn more.
