Everything Is Bigger in Texas with KYZEN's Upgraded Presence

NASHVILLE — February 2021 — KYZEN, the global leader in innovative environmentally friendly cleaning chemistries, announces that it has partnered with two exceptional representatives to the cleaning industry, Southwest Systems Technology and MetroWest Industrial. Under the new partnerships, Southwest Systems Technology and MetroWest Industrial will promote, sell and support KYZEN's full range of high-performance cleaning products for both the electronics and metal finishing industries respectively throughout Texas.

Kevin Buckner, the Regional Manager for the Texas area, states, "After celebrating my seventh year servicing the West Coast, I am looking forward to the challenges of building a territory with Southwest Systems Technology and MetroWest Industrial. Both companies will complement KYZEN'S commitment to Science and Care that is well known throughout the manufacturing industry."

Southwest Systems Technology (SW Systems), founded in 1989, sells and endorses products in both the electronic and semiconductor manufacturing industries. SW Systems' philosophy is to technically present the myriad of products it represents in a thorough and professional manner. Their expert sales team includes members that have 20-30 years' experience in either PCBA, bare board or machine shop work. The sales team is frequently asked to support their customers as consultants which in turn widens their support coverage more than any other electronics manufacturing rep organization in the area.

Southwest Systems Technology will represent KYZEN's line of environmentally responsible precision products and services throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mexico. For more information about Southwest Systems' products and services, contact Scott Fillebrown at (972) 824-9548 or visit their website at www.swsystems.com.

MetroWest Industrial, KYZEN's second distributor, focuses on providing innovative and task-proven chemicals, as well as equipment that supports the expanding parts cleaning needs of their customers. This includes resolving issues with ultrasonic immersion, spray wash and vacuum degreasing machines in the aerospace, automotive and industrial markets. MetroWest Industrial is based in Fort Worth, Texas, and services the Texas-Oklahoma region. For more information, please email them at info@metrowestindustrial.com or call (817) 846-0279.
