FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Brenda Martin Joins AQS, Inc. as Director of Business Development

FREMONT, CA — September 2020 — AQS, Inc., a state-of-the-art EMS provider located in Silicon Valley, is pleased to announce the appointment of Brenda Martin as its new Director of Business Development.

An entrepreneurial, intuitive executive, Martin has an impeccable 20-year track record in strategic planning, business management, and EMS marketing and sales across high growth, high potential markets. Martin commented, “The network economy is founded on technology, but can only be built on relationships. It starts with chips and ends with trust.”

A graduate of California Polytechnic State University, Martin is a high achieving sales and business development professional. She joins AQS from well-respected companies in the industry, including Jabil and Sanmina-SCI.

With a mission of providing customers with a high-quality one-stop solution for all their needs so that they can thrive in any dynamic competitive environment, the company works continuously to create the best product for its customers to dominate the market and raise the bar.
