Achieve Optimal Thermal Uniformity with BTU at IMAPS Boston 2024

NORTH BILLERICA, Mass., September 2024 — BTU International, Inc., a leading supplier of advanced thermal processing equipment for the electronics manufacturing market, is pleased to announce its participation in the 57th International Symposium on Microelectronics (IMAPS) Boston, scheduled to take place Oct. 1-2, 2024. The BTU team will showcase its industry-leading high-temperature belt furnaces, including the TCA Furnace renowned for its exceptional performance in Direct Bond Copper (DBC) applications.

As the world's leader in DBC production, BTU International has perfected the balance of atmosphere control and thermal uniformity, ensuring optimal bonding and superior product quality. The company's TCA Furnace is designed to meet the rigorous demands of DBC applications, providing unmatched precision and reliability.

Attendees at IMAPS Boston will have the opportunity to learn more about BTU International's innovative solutions and how its high-temperature belt furnaces can enhance their production processes. BTU's experts will be on hand to discuss the latest advancements in controlled atmosphere technology and demonstrate how BTU equipment delivers consistent, high-quality results.

Visit BTU International at IMAPS Boston to find out how the company continues to lead the industry with cutting-edge technology and world-class service.
