BIMOS Announces New National Sales Manager, Ryan Crowley

CHICAGO, IL — June 2024 — Bimos, a leading provider of ergonomic ESD seating solutions, is pleased to announce the appointment of Ryan Crowley as the new National Sales Manager for its US operations. Ryan brings over 10 years of successful sales development and channel marketing experience from the technology software industry and will be focusing on the Lab/ESD Interiors marketplace.

“We are excited to bring on a sales-driven leader like Ryan for our lab segment,” said Mark Scelfo, US Managing Director at BIMOS. “His extensive experience in sales and channel marketing, combined with his dedication to customer success, makes him a perfect fit for our team.”

Ryan will be working closely with the Lab and ESD Rep Group Partners and will help develop the Chicago market, adding value to BIMOS’s growth strategy. He lives in Chicago’s western suburbs with his wife, Kristin, and their new baby girl, Mira.

This strategic hire is part of BIMOS’s ongoing commitment to providing the highest level of customer service and innovative seating solutions in the industry.
