CalcuQuote Presents Build: Digital Transformation Starts Here

Free virtual conference for current and potential CalcuQuote users on Apr. 14 & 15

DALLAS (Apr 8, 2021) - CalcuQuote, a quoting and supply chain software provider for the electronics manufacturing services (EMS) industry, is hosting a virtual two-day conference for CalcuQuote users and industry leaders on Wednesday, Apr. 14, and Thursday, Apr. 15, - BuildEMS (<https://calcuquote.com/build>).

The event will provide an interactive online experience for customers to network with industry partners, share their CalcuQuote success stories and discuss product roadmap ideas. The conference will take place Wednesday and Thursday from 7:00 a.m. CDT to 12:00 p.m. CDT. It will open with a keynote address from Steve Vecchiarelli about the evolution of the electronics supply chain. The first day will conclude with a speed quoting challenge where the loser gets a pie to the face. The second day will conclude with an Awards Ceremony.

“After receiving overwhelmingly positive feedback from AccelerateEMS, we decided it was time to provide another virtual opportunity for EMS professionals to connect” said Chintan Sutaria, founder and president of CalcuQuote. “Users will be able to connect with our CalcuQuote partners at their virtual booths and become product experts through our educational materials. We’re excited to provide attendees with the opportunity to help shape the future of the EMS industry.”

Highlights of the conference include a keynote presentation on the new age of the supply chain by Steve Vecchiarelli, who has 40+ years of electronics supply chain experience, roundtable discussions with CQ users and product managers, tips and tricks to become a quoting and purchasing power user, and more.

Registration is free and can be found at: calcuquote.com/build
