SMTXTRA Partners with Quantum Systems to Expand Representation in Key Territories

Doncaster, United Kingdom — April 2024 — SMTXTRA, a renowned leader in Surface Mount Technology (SMT) equipment services, is pleased to announce its partnership with Quantum Systems, a premier sales and marketing organization covering Arizona, New Mexico, Sonora Mexico, and Baja Mexico territories. This collaboration marks a significant milestone in SMTXTRA's efforts to enhance its presence and accessibility to top-tier suppliers in key markets.

Led by industry veteran Bill Butt, Quantum Systems brings a wealth of experience and expertise in serving the electronics, medical, semiconductor, cleanroom, light industrial, and maquila markets. With a strong focus on quality and reliability, Quantum Systems is well-positioned to represent SMTXTRA's range of products and services effectively.

SMTXTRA offers a full range of SMT parts, equipment, and services designed to meet the diverse needs of electronics manufacturers. From feeder repair and testing services with a substantial three-month warranty to calibration services for various SMT equipment brands, SMTXTRA ensures unmatched quality and reliability in every aspect of its offerings. All SMT parts and equipment undergo rigorous quality checks by a dedicated team of SMT technicians, guaranteeing optimal performance and durability.

"We are thrilled to partner with Quantum Systems to extend our reach and serve customers in these vital territories," said Tony Longo, Director of Sales at SMTXTRA. "Bill Butt and the Quantum Systems team share our commitment to excellence, making them the ideal partners to represent our brand and deliver exceptional value to customers."
