

TestEquity offers Sciencscope Smart Storage Racks

SmartRacks make inventory faster, simpler, and more accurate.

SOUTHLAKE, Texas, Nov. 17, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- TestEquity, the industry's leading distributor of test and measurement solutions and electronic production supplies, offers state-of-the-art Smart Storage Rack technology from Sciencscope to help keep your inventory under control.

SmartRacks are the easiest, most accurate way to store reels of electronic components. When integrated with a Reel Scanner, SmartRacks give you precise inventory, using AI-driven algorithms to instantly create unique ID numbers and labels, integrate with your MES/ERP systems, and make slot assignments with the help of LED indicator lights.

"Sciencscope Smart Storage Racks are a clever solution for many of the customers we serve," said Scott Cave, Director of Product Management at TestEquity. "The benefits are obvious: Faster, more accurate inventory with fewer steps and less room for human error."
