KYZEN Announces Exclusive Partnership with Manufacturers' Representative Restronics Southern California

NASHVILLE — April 2026 — KYZEN, the global leader in innovative environmentally responsible cleaning chemistries, proudly announces its strategic partnership with Manufacturers' Representative REStronics Southern California. As an extension of KYZEN's commitment to continuously improving precision cleaning, REStronics serves as a consultative OEM sales representative organization dedicated to helping customers enhance their productivity, process efficiency, and product reliability.

Restronics "SoCal" pairs the energies of Kevin Silva and Brad Eastman with the extensive customer engagement and analytics tools that have led to REStronics' successes across other territories. Josh Kramlick, Sales Leader - Americas at KYZEN, shared his enthusiasm for the partnership, stating, "We are impressed with the drive and commitment of this particular REStronics team and expect this collaboration to grow our presence and responsiveness in Southern California's electronics manufacturing ecosystem."

The partnership between KYZEN and REStronics SoCal aims to provide manufacturers with comprehensive solutions to enhance process efficacy. Kevin Silva, REStronics SoCal Managing Partner, stated, "We are honored to represent KYZEN in the Southern California region, bringing world-class cleaning solutions to our customers."

By combining KYZEN's cutting-edge cleaning chemistries with REStronics SoCal's expertise and network, the partnership empowers manufacturers with tailored solutions to optimize operations and reduce field failures.

REStronics SoCal plays a vital role in providing valuable insights into end-customer activity and managing distribution channel relationships. REStronics SoCal is part of the larger REStronics organization, which boasts a nationwide presence, with 11 offices and over 25 sales professionals covering the United States.
