CE3S Announces New Partnership with SpecialTeam to Support Cleanroom and Medical Device Customers

HARRISBURG, PA — June 2026 — Cumberland Electronics Strategic Supply Solutions (CE3S), your strategic sourcing, professional solutions and distribution partner, has announced a new partnership with SpecialTeam. The collaboration provides an added resource for customers working in cleanroom, medical device, and other regulated manufacturing environments.

The collaboration is designed to connect CE3S customers with SpecialTeam’s specialized capabilities in final-stage manufacturing, including assembly, packaging, and process support for sterile and non-sterile medical devices. Rather than acting as a reseller, CE3S will work closely with customers to identify needs and facilitate introductions where it makes sense.

SpecialTeam operates an ISO 13485:2016 certified and FDA-registered facility, supporting customers with validated processes, custom packaging solutions, and coordinated sourcing across multiple vendors. Their team focuses on the final steps of production—where quality, compliance, and efficiency matter most.

For CE3S customers, particularly those in medical and cleanroom-driven applications, the partnership provides a more complete path from sourcing to finished product. It also gives customers access to additional expertise when navigating regulatory requirements, packaging challenges, or multi-supplier coordination.

This approach aligns with how CE3S typically works—supporting customers beyond individual products. In addition to supplying consumables, chemicals, ESD solutions, soldering materials, and production equipment, CE3S helps manage inventory, streamline procurement, and reduce day-to-day supply chain friction.

By adding SpecialTeam as a resource, CE3S is extending that support further downstream in the manufacturing process.

The partnership reflects a shared focus on practical problem-solving—helping customers move efficiently from materials and components through final assembly and packaging, without unnecessary complexity. To learn more, visit SpecialTeam Cleanroom Assembly & Packaging | CE3S.
