KYZEN Highlighting Cleaning Solutions of Past, Present, and Future at APEX 2026

NASHVILLE — February 2026 — KYZEN, the global leader in innovative environmentally responsible cleaning chemistries, will exhibit in Booth 4005 at the upcoming 2026 APEX EXPO, scheduled for March 14-19, 2026, at the Anaheim Convention Center. KYZEN and the Clean Team will highlight the company's dedication to providing cleaning solutions for yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

Providing Cleaning Solutions for Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow

KYZEN has been solving problems and answering cleaning questions for more than 35 years. Clean Team experts have traveled the world learning, innovating, and continuously improving so KYZEN can provide science and care through our reliable chemistries and process control.

Today, our team of dedicated experts across the globe bring their industry-leading knowledge to work collaboratively with manufacturers to discover the perfect solution for their specific cleaning issues. KYZEN provides solutions for contemporary challenges, eliminating electronics manufacturers' past cleaning issues and helping ensure effective cleaning of their PCBs or assemblies well into the future.

KYZEN looks to the future and asks questions that have yet to be answered whether they concern stencil cleaning, to the effective cleaning of finished boards, or process maintenance. As the electronics industry evolves, KYZEN evolves with it while leading the discussion on tomorrow's electronics, adhering to a mission of meeting sustainability goals, reducing consumption, and supporting compatibility.

"During KYZEN's 35-plus year journey of innovation, collaboration and dedication, we've consistently utilized benchmark knowledge to inform the cleaning solutions we provide," said Jayson Moy, Director of Global Product Line Management at KYZEN. "Our team of cleaning experts are dedicated to continuing our legacy of successful technologies to meet the ever-evolving needs of the industry and sharing that knowledge at APEX 2026."

Visit KYZEN at Booth 4005

Attendees are encouraged to visit KYZEN's booth to discover their advanced cleaning solutions and extensive industry expertise for a variety manufacturing processes. From groundbreaking research to innovative cleaning chemistries, KYZEN remains the industry's trusted partner for ensuring precision and performance in electronics assembly for yesterday, today, and tomorrow.
