TTC-LLC and TTCI: Smarter Training, Stronger Test at PCB East 2026

Baltimore, MD – April 2026 – The Training Connection LLC (TTC-LLC) and The Test Connection, Inc. (TTCI) will be exhibiting together at PCB East 2026, taking place April 28–May 1 at the DCU Convention Center in Worcester, Massachusetts. Attendees can find both teams at Booth #103 during the main exhibition day on Wednesday, April 29.

The two sister companies are bringing a combined approach to the show—helping electronics manufacturers not only improve their test strategies, but also build the internal expertise needed to support them long term.

TTC-LLC focuses on training and workforce development, offering IPC certification programs (including A-600, A-610, and A-620) along with hands-on instruction in test engineering, design for test (DfT), and quality. The goal is straightforward: give teams the knowledge and confidence to do the job right.

TTCI brings more than 45 years of experience in electronic test engineering, with capabilities that include in-circuit test (ICT), flying probe, boundary scan (JTAG), functional test development, and DfT and coverage analysis. The company works across industries like aerospace, defense, medical, and automotive, helping customers improve test coverage and reduce risk.

Together, the companies offer a practical mix of training and real-world application—supporting everything from skill development to full test implementation. If you're looking to strengthen your test process, solve a specific challenge, or upskill your team, stop by Booth #103 and start the conversation.

TTCI and TTC-LLC are active members of organizations including SMTA, IPC, PCBAA, and PCEA, contributing to industry education and best-practice development.
