

Contact

Bert Horner, President
410-891-6400
wahorner@TTC-LLC.US

For Immediate Release

The Training Connection Continues to Grow with Addition of Veteran IPC Trainer Bill Graver

Baltimore, MD – October 2025 – The Training Connection, LLC (TTC-LLC), a premier provider of test engineering and development training, is proud to announce the addition of Bill Graver to its growing team of industry experts. A respected professional with more than 35 years in electronics manufacturing, Bill joins as an IPC Master Trainer, bringing a wealth of hands-on experience in PCB testing, failure analysis, and process improvement.

Bill has long been an active contributor to the industry's technical community, serving on the IPC-A-600 committee and as vice chair of IPC-6012. He holds multiple IPC Master Trainer (MIT) certifications, including IPC-A-600, IPC-6012, IPC-A-610, and IPC/WHMA-A-620. His involvement with organizations such as the IPC (now Global Electronics Association), SMTA, PCEA, and PCBAA reflects a career dedicated to raising the bar for quality, reliability, and education in electronics manufacturing.

"Bill's technical depth and passion for teaching make him a perfect fit for our team," said Bert Horner, President, The Training Connection. "As demand for certified and well-trained professionals continues to grow, adding someone with Bill's background helps us expand our reach and better support the industry."

"TTC-LLC is an exciting company that truly values practical, hands-on learning and industry expertise," said Bill Graver. "Their approach to training aligns perfectly with my own philosophy. Combining real-world experience with standards-based education helps professionals strengthen their skills and confidence."

The Training Connection (TTC-LLC) provides technical and professional development programs for the electronics manufacturing industry, including:

- IPC Certification Courses (CIT & CIS) for standards such as J-STD-001, IPC-A-610, and IPC-A-6012
- Custom Technical Training in test development, design for test (DfT), inspection, and advanced SMT processes
- Professional Development Workshops tailored for manufacturing engineers, technicians, and educators
- Onsite and Virtual Training Options to meet diverse scheduling and operational needs

With the addition of Bill Graver, The Training Connection continues to grow its team and capabilities, reinforcing its position as a trusted resource for comprehensive training and certification in electronics manufacturing.

For more information, visit TTC-LLC.us.

###

About The Training Connection, LLC

Founded by The Test Connection, Inc. (TTCI), The Training Connection, LLC specializes in test engineering, test development, and IPC certification courses, equipping professionals with the expertise to optimize test methodologies, improve product designs, and enhance manufacturing efficiency.