CE3S Expands Product Portfolio to Deliver More Comprehensive Sourcing Solutions for Electronics Manufacturers

HARRISBURG, Pa. — September 2026 — CE3S will showcase its expanded portfolio of electronics manufacturing products and solutions at the SMTA Long Island Expo on Oct. 1, giving electronics manufacturing professionals an opportunity to discuss sourcing, ESD protection and production support directly with the company's team. The event will take place from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Eastern at the Marriott Melville Long Island.

CE3S provides strategic sourcing and professional solutions across critical areas of electronics manufacturing. Its expanded offerings address advanced electronics manufacturing requirements as well as chemical and cleaning applications, ESD protection, inspection equipment, and soldering and rework operations. By bringing these complementary product categories together, CE3S enables customers to streamline purchasing while gaining access to solutions that support production efficiency, quality and workplace protection.

A key focus of CE3S's offering is ESD Protection: with on-site assessments and supplies from top manufacturers, helping customers evaluate their environments and identify products and practices that support effective electrostatic discharge control. The company also provides products and solutions intended to address the practical requirements of electronics production, from inspection and rework to cleaning and process chemistry.

The expanded portfolio supports CE3S's role as a true sourcing partner, providing customers with access to a broader range of products while simplifying the sourcing and distribution process. This approach is intended to help manufacturers save time, reduce procurement complexity and more efficiently support their day-to-day production requirements.

Current Promotion

Through October 31, 2026, customers who purchase a soldering station and accessories in an order totaling $1,000 or more can receive a free MicroCare TriggerGrip Tool Kit, subject to applicable terms and conditions.
